Dear Colleague,

The Journal of the Kansas Entomological Society is going online! Beginning with Volume 95, print copies will no longer be provided. Instead, we will publish articles on BioOne as they are accepted rather than publishing a print version each quarter. This will allow the Society to publish important research in a more timely manner. It's not too late to renew your Kansas Entomological Society membership for 2023.

As a member, you receive access to the Journal of the Kansas Entomological Society online for one year, plus the eligibility to submit manuscripts for publication in the Journal. Membership provides the opportunity to meet like-minded people who share your interests and attend/present at the annual meeting where you can network with both local and international colleagues.

Please visit the KES business office website (<http://kes.allenpress.com/kes>) to renew online. Alternatively, you may return your included renewal form with payment via mail to:

Kansas Entomological Society
PO Box 7065
Lawrence, KS 66044-7065

If you have any questions concerning your renewal or have trouble logging in, please contact us at knts.ks@kwglobal.com or by phone at (785) 289-2488.

Best Regards,

Kansas Entomological Society Business Office
